Joe

Thanks. Let's hope for a short turn around with the independent body.

You're likely already aware, but I was contacted by the RCMP a shortwhile ago who advised they will be issuing a media update today regarding the Dunphy shooting. They have completed their investigation, but will not be releasing any details to the media, public, me or the RNC. They will instead be forwarding their findings to another independent body for review; they do not have timelines regarding this review as it is out of their control.
